Something Dada Celebrates Our 14th Anniversary with THE SWEETEST DADA

Cleveland: Something Dada Improvisational Comedy Company has been making Clevelanders laugh for 14 years. And boy, are we tired! Not really. In fact, we're so full of vim and vigor that we're hosting a blow-out bash to celebrate our fourteen years of laughter!

The Sweetest Dada will take place on October 18, 2008—which just so happens to be Sweetest Day. We invite everyone to come celebrate a made-up holiday with the folks who have been making stuff up for the past 14 years!

The Sweetest Dada will include food and drink, prizes and an auction featuring items that have been generously donated by local businesses. The main event for the evening will be a Dada performance filled with our signature blend of fast-paced, in-your-face, audience-based improv comedy. The party will keep rocking after the show at Becky's Bar and Grill at 1762 E. 18th Street, Cleveland.

Anniversary shows are even more unpredictable than a regular Dada performance. "We're never sure how many past cast members will be in attendance -- it's like a big family reunion. You can always count on someone to do something strange that everyone will be talking about for the rest of the week," says Russel Stich, a member of the original Dada cast and current General Manager for the group.

The best part is that all of this excitement is available for the laughably low price of $20 a ticket! And if you purchase your tickets ahead of time by visiting www.somethingdada.com by October 1, you can get your tickets for the special pre-sale price of $15 each. This evening serves as our annual fundraiser, as we are a non-profit arts organization.

The doors will open at 8:00 and the show will begin at 9:00. The Sweetest Dada will take place at our performance home in The Wooltex Gallery at The Tower Press Building, at 1900 Superior Avenue, Cleveland. There is ample free parking, both in a lot behind the building and on-street. For reservations, to pre-purchase tickets or for more information, visit www.somethingdada.com or call 216.696.4242.
